Peter Wong has been engaged for 30 years in telecommunications and IT industries, of which their development is a matter of his concern. Mr Wong can contribute substantially to the IT sector, given his expertise and experiences. The Election Committee needs Mr Wong to serve as a member to elect a Chief Executive that will truly answer the calls from this sector, so as to enhance Hong Kong's IT development and improve its business environment.

Mr Wong has helped to steer the industry to where it is today, contributing significantly to many major telecommunications milestones in Hong Kong. He is an active player in strengthening the communications between operators and regulatory sectors, contributing relentlessly to raising public awareness of the economic and social benefits brought about by the advanced telecommunications industry.

Mr Wong holds a Master's degree in Telecommunications from the University of Birmingham in the UK and is a Fellow of the Hong Kong Institute of Engineers. He has held senior positions in leading telecommunications and computing corporations in Hong Kong, the US, Canada and Southeast Asia. Mr Wong is currently the Chief Executive Officer of Hutchison Telecommunications (Hong Kong) Limited and Hutchison Global Communications Limited. Mr Wong was also instrumental in the introduction of Hong Kong's first public switched data network and a number of the world's first advanced telematic services.

He is the Director of Hong Kong Applied Science and Technology Research Institute Company Limited, striving to enhance Hong Kong's technological development and strengthen the communications among members. Mr Wong participates in discussions on industry issues and takes on a leadership role in driving tight collaboration among industry players to ensure that industry views are heard.

Mr Wong is aged 57, married with one son.
